

Qubee product presentation:

Crazy for load? For sure!

The sun is shining, the grass is fragrant and the clouds are reflected on the clear water surface of a small lake – this place is just perfect for a picnic! If you are now thinking about how you could transport blankets, drinks and the full cooler with goodies for your family and friends there by bike or e-bike, then Qeridoo has the perfect solution for your next adventure: the Qubee and Qubee XL, the new cargo trailers from the German premium manufacturer for bike trailers!

The Qubees are not only made for picnics, whether luggage or shopping, beverage crates or boxes, whatever you want to transport, the two are your useful helper. And that's exactly what we mean by cargotastic! Qeridoo is known for its versatility, and so the Qubee can also be operated in different modes – in trailer mode directly on your bike or thanks to the optionally available accessories as a handcart with separate wheel and tow bar.

Thanks to the tow bar with quick-release function, the switch goes just as easily as with the trailers. The strong base plate can withstand quite a bit and ensures that 130 liters of packing volume in the Qubee and an incredible 220 liters of packing volume in the Qubee XL are transported safely and stably. Safety was once again an absolute priority in the development of the Qubee models: they feature slide-on wheel deflectors with reflective strips, additional reflective strips on the canopy, cover and wheels, a sturdy aluminum frame for optimum road holding and StVZO-compliant reflectors on the front and rear. A pennant for visibility in trailer mode is of course also not missing.

And also order must be, so Qeridoo has again come up with many useful features that make the operation of the Qubee unique. Whether the removable interior Velcro pocket for small items, the practical zigzag rubber lacing on top for jackets and blankets, the loop strap for attaching carabiners, for example, or even the attachment loops outside for lashing straps to secure loads (already included), no cargo desires remain open.

The highlight: If you do not need the Qubee, it is folded in a few simple steps to a minimum pack size - and just as quickly ready for use again.

Crazy for load? For sure!

The Qubee and the Qubee XL are both available in grey and for a short time limited edition in bright petrol, priced at 400 and 450 euros respectively.
